

Terms and conditions of the free Webinar organized by House of Angular on the internet on 05.08.2026

Section I. General information

1. These Terms and Conditions define the general principles and manner of providing the service electronically i.e. Webinar by the Organizer, based on of art. 8 section 1 item 1 of the Act of July 18, 2002, on the provision of services by electronic means (Journal of Laws of 2017, item 1219, as amended).
2. Definitions:
 - a. Organizer - House of Angular.
 - b. Participant means an individual who has made a Registration according to the rules of these Terms and Conditioning.
 - c. Third Parties means entities independent of the Organizer.
 - d. Webinar - online seminar organized by the Organizer for Participants.
 - e. Personal data means personal data within the meaning of RODO, collected by the Organizer.
 - f. RODO means the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 April 2016 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (General Data Protection Regulation).
 - g. Act - Act on Personal Data Protection, dated May 10, 2018.
 - h. Privacy Policy – privacy policy that is available at <https://houseofangular.io/privacy-policy/> Privacy Policy is an integral part of these Terms and Conditions.
 - i. Application Form: the online form by which the Participant applies to register and take part in a Webinar.
 - j. Registration means the effective application of the Participant to participate in the Webinar. By effective application, we shall mean an application followed by an email confirmation of participation to the email address indicated by the Participant.
 - k. Webpage means the Webinar website, available at the following address:
<https://houseofangular.io/webinar/roll-out-and-control-ai-in-your-dev-team/>
 - l. Services mean a package of services related to the Webinar, collectively meaning such services as the Form, Registration, and organization of the Webinar.
 - m. Brevo means a tool used by the Organizer to record Participants' data and contact to the Participants

Section II. Technical Conditions

In order to participate in the Webinar, it is necessary to have:

- a. computer or other electronic devices that allows access to the Internet,
- b. access to the Internet,
- c. a web browser in its latest version or an appropriate application for a mobile phone, allowing to connect to the streaming of the Webinar,
- d. active e-mail address.

Section III - Registration

1. By registration you accept all Terms and conditions of participation in the Webinar.
2. Registration is done by completing and submitting the Form available at <https://houseofangular.io/webinar/roll-out-and-control-ai-in-your-dev-team/>
3. Confirmation of Registration comes to the e-mail address provided by the Participant.
4. Registration is free of charge.
5. Organizer is not responsible for disruptions, including interruptions in the functioning of the webinar caused by force majeure, unauthorized acts of third parties, incompatibility of the Participant's equipment with the requirements, or internet blackouts.

Section IV - Obligations of the Organizer and Participant

1. The Organizer shall:
 - a. Inform the Participant of any changes materially affecting the Webinar, including changes in speakers, dates, hours, or topics of the speeches of the Webinar, which will not constitute a violation of Terms and Conditions. Organizer reserves the right to cancel the Webinar in case of the occurrence of fortuitous events or events beyond the Service Provider's control, e.g. illness of the speaker, which will be notified by e-mail.
 - b. monitor the course of the Webinar and, to the extent of its ability, eliminate failures occurring on the part of the Organizer,
 - c. to ensure the security of the data stored on the Sendinblue,
 - d. to send the participant a link to the Webinar.
 - e. to send the Participant additional materials to the email address provided at the registration no later than 10 work days after the Webinar.
2. The Participant commits to:
 - a. supply true and correct data with his application to participate in the Webinar.
 - b. follow the terms of the Terms and Conditions,
 - c. participate in the Webinar in a manner that does not impede the use of the Webinar by other Participants and in a manner consistent with the nature and purpose of the service.
3. Participant is prohibited from:
 - a. providing content prohibited by law,
 - b. acting in a manner that violates the law or circumvents the law, as well as in contradiction with the rules of social coexistence and good morals including but not limited to not publishing content in the comments that are unlawful or in a manner that may constitute a violation of the law,
 - c. attempting to violate the Organizer's system resources to which the Participant is not entitled.

Section V - Responsibility

Organizer shall not be liable:

- a. for any damages resulting from the non-performance or improper performance of the

Webinar arising from the discontinuation of the Webinar service in case, this occurred due to the fault of the Participant or due to violation of the law or the Terms and Conditioning, and also arising for reasons not attributable to the Organizer;

- b. for non-performance or improper performance of the Webinar if it was caused by force majeure, i.e. by an event external, impossible or almost impossible to foresee, related to, but not limited exclusively to, forces of nature, unusual behavior of the collective or actions of the state authority governmental authority.

Section VI - Cancellation of participation

1. A Participant may resign from participation in Webinar at any time.
2. Resignation from participation may, but does not have to, be reported to the e-mail address webinar@houseofangular.io.
3. Resignation from participation is not the same as a request to delete or restrict access to Personal Data.

Section VII - Intellectual Property/Copyright

1. Upon acceptance of the Terms and Conditions, the Participant shall obtain the right to access the content of the Webinar for the duration of the Webinar. The content constitutes a work within the meaning of the provisions of the Act of February 4, 1994, on Copyright and Related Rights (Journal of Laws of 2016, item 666, as amended), and is intended for the Participant's personal use. The Participant shall not have the right to reproduce, duplicate, distribute, or market the content of the Webinar or the materials from the Webinar, or share such content with third parties.
2. Participants shall not have the right to record in any form the content and proceedings of the Webinar, without the written consent of the Organizer.
3. All rights, including proprietary copyrights, intellectual property rights in the names of the services, the Internet domain and the content contained therein, including the content of the Webinar and related materials, belong to the Organizer, and may be used only with the consent of the Organizer.
4. Organizer declares that it intends to record, make available and archive the statements of the Participants of the webinars and, if there is a video connection during the webinar, also images of the Webinar Participants. Participants by logging in to a given webinar agree to the above actions of the Organizer within the framework of that webinar. Organizer may, if it deems it reasonable, remove at the request of the Organizer or Participant registered materials.
5. If the statements referred to in point 4 include information provided by the Participant constituting a business secret of the Client or data protected under separate regulations, the Participant is obliged to inform the Organizer about it. If such information is not provided Organizer is entitled to take the actions indicated in paragraph 2 without incurring any consequences against the Organizer, Participant, or third parties.

Section VIII - Complaints

1. The Participant may file a complaint related to the implementation of the service by the Organizer. The complaint may be submitted to the Organizer by e-mail to the address: webinar@houseofangular.io

2. A person filing a complaint should provide his/her data, including contact details and a description of the reason is the basis of the complaint. Complaints that do not meet these requirements will not be considered.
3. The Organizer shall consider the complaint no later than 14 days and shall respond to the e-mail address provided in the complaint.

Section IX – Personal data collection

1. By submitting the application, the Participant authorizes the collection, use and storage of personal data in House of Angular's database saving on the Brevo. Personal data collection, use, and storage, as well as Participation in the Webinar, are governed by our Privacy Policy and Terms and Conditions and in accordance with generally applicable legal norms, in particular with the Law on Personal Data Protection and the Act on the provision of services by electronic means.
2. The administrator of the personal data provided by the Participant in the Webinar Registration form is Organizer.
3. Participants' personal data shall be processed for the purposes of:
 - a. Provision of Services by the Organizer to the Participant, including, but not limited to Webinar, handling inquiries and complaints, sending information to the Participant electronically about the status of the Webinar, changes to the offer, Terms and Conditions, Privacy Policy, technical interruptions, and other significant changes affecting the provided Services, pursuant to Article 6(1)(b) of the RODO, b. direct marketing of the Organizer, including but not limited to sending commercial information by traditional and electronic means, educational information, news about new materials, content and training courses, pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) of the RODO, c. statistical and technical, among others, in the form of server logs, entries in databases of the Service Provider and Third Parties, etc., pursuant to Article 6(1)(f) RODO, d. profiling through the use of tools provided by Third Parties, in particular to automate sales and customer service processes, pursuant to Article 6.6(1)(f) RODO. e. organizational, administrative and IT support - the legal basis is the realization of the Administrator's legitimate interest in organizing the Webinar (Article 6(1)(f) RODO), f. investigation and defense against claims and for archival purposes - the legal basis is the realization of the Administrator's legitimate interest in investigating and defending against claims and archiving data (Article 6(1)(f) RODO).
2. The submission of personal data is voluntary but necessary for the performance of the Services, including, in particular, the Registration. The consequence of failing to provide them is the inability to participate in the Webinar.
3. The Organizer uses cookies (hereinafter: "Cookies") in its operations in order to customize our Services and the content posted on the Site to the individual needs of Participants and to measure their interest.
4. The Participant has the right to request access to Personal Data, as well as to rectify, delete or restrict processing. A request for deletion or restriction of access to Personal Data may result in removal from the Webinar.
5. The Participant has the right to lodge a complaint to the supervisory authority - the President of the Office for Personal Data Protection.
6. Detailed provisions on the protection of personal data and privacy policy are contained in the Privacy Policy document, available at any time on the Website. The Privacy Policy is an integral part of the Terms and Conditions and must be accepted in order for the Organizer to provide services to the Participant.

Section X - Final Provisions

1. The Terms and Conditions shall enter into force on 09.04.2026.
2. The Participants should inform the Organizer in writing (by e-mail) of any change e-mail address.
2. In matters not regulated by the Terms and Conditions, the provisions of Polish law shall apply.
3. The Organizer reserves the right to change the content of the Terms and Conditions. The Participant will be informed about the change of the Terms and Conditions by e-mail 5 days before the new Terms and Conditions come into force. Until that time the Participant is bound by the previous Terms and Conditions. The use of the service by the Participant after the implementation of these changes is tantamount to an expression of their understanding and acceptance.
4. If any provision of the Terms and Conditions changes or becomes invalid as a result of a final court decision, this will not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of the Terms and Conditions.
5. In the case of a dispute arising, the Organizer and the Participant will seek to resolve the matter amicably. The governing law for the resolution of any disputes arising under these Regulations shall be Polish law.